

A Word or two from Co-directors
Brenda & Heather

Brenda and I have joined forces to direct this production of "House Guest". In keeping with KUCOM Theatre's aim to present variety in our entertainment for our audiences, we decided a "thriller" was long overdue.

"House Guest" is from the pen of Francis Durbridge, who has written prolifically for the BBC. "House Guest" was first presented in London by Michael Codron at the Savoy Theatre in 1981.

It is gratifying to see some new faces in this production and we feel sure that they will be seen in more productions in the future.

"House Guest" does have some thrills, and we will leave it at that. We hope you enjoy the entertainment of "House Guest" as it unfolds

KUCOM'S Next production

After the suspense and intrigue of "House Guest", KUCOM's final 1992 production will bring back comedy in an hilarious play "The Farnsdale Housing Estate Ladies Guild Production of Macbeth". The title alone should give an indication of the fun that will be in store.

Auditions will be held on Tuesday 22nd September and the show dates will be early December. We hope to see you all back for some pre-Christmas mayhem and merriment
